What determines if a policy is eligible for electronic delivery?

Products:

- Term
- *GIWL (pass-through)

Policy Owner:

- Must be the insured
- Must be the payor
- Email address must be present on the application

Distribution Channel:

- Partners Group is not supported for agency administration

eDelivery Methods:

- Case by Case (policy level selection)
- ePolicy Admin Settings (agent/agency level settings)

ePolicy: Case by Case

If a policy is eDelivery-eligible and there are no ePolicy Admin settings in place, the Case by Case feature will automatically be available for use. Once the policy is Conditionally Issued, the delivery preference cannot be changed and the policy will automatically be sent electronically to the Policy Owner.

Clicking on the Policy Delivery Details tab will show the delivery history as well as the available action items (i.e., Request Paper Copy, Request Reissue)

The screenshot displays the 'New Business' section of a web application. At the top, a light blue header reads 'New Business'. Below it, the main content area is titled 'New Business Pending Policy: 4190053023' with a sub-note 'Policy information is current as of 5/11/2019'. To the right of this title are icons for a bookmark, a printer, and an 'Export' button with a dropdown arrow. The central part of the page is a 'Policy Information' section with a 'Policy Details' sub-header. It contains a table of policy attributes: Product Type (Term Life Insurance), Insured Name (MCLINTOCK, CHRISTOPHER), Writing Agent (MAURER, MARK, 8FF48-AGL), Policy Status (Conditionally Issued), Face Amount ($500,000.00), Premium ($382.75), Billing Frequency (Annual), and Date of Issue. A blue arrow points to the 'Face Amount' row, which is highlighted with an orange border. Below the table is a 'Policy Packet' section with a 'Download Policy Packet' link. At the bottom of this section is an 'OPEN' button with a blue checkmark icon. Below the 'Policy Information' section is a 'Detailed Policy Information' section with a horizontal menu of tabs: Outstanding Requirements, Application, Coverage, Insured/Owner, Beneficiaries, Agent List, and Correspondence. The 'Policy Delivery Details' tab is selected and highlighted with a blue border. On the far right edge of the interface, there is a vertical 'Feedback' button.

Policies are issued by American General Life Insurance Company, a member of American International Group, Inc. (AIG).

ePolicy Delivery: Frequently Asked Questions

What happens if the policy owner's email address is not provided on the application?

The policy will automatically be printed and mailed to the policy owner.

What email address does the policy owner email come from?

AIG | American General Life/US Life (webmaster@aglife.com).

What is the subject line of the policy owner email?

Your new insurance policy from AIG

When does the ePolicy link expire?

90 days from sent date.

What occurs on an ePolicy when there are multiple Agents?

The policy will be viewable in the Policy Details page of Connex for the agents to view; the eDelivery actions will only be available if the agent has eDelivery turned on.

If the policy owner has previously eSigned their policy or does not have an outstanding signature requirement, how can they see their policy before submitting a payment?

The policy owner can access their policy via the "View Policy" link at the top of the ePay screen.

Can the policy owner update the Short Health Statement while completing the eSignature process?

No, only eSignature is supported at this time. The policy owner should follow the instructions on the form for completion, if updates are applicable.

Is Direct Bill an option for all payment modes?

Yes, as long as the premium is greater than $50.

Can the policy owner change the bank account information on file during the eDelivery process?

If the policy owner previously submitted a Bank Draft Form, they will not be able to change their banking information during the ePolicy Delivery process.

Does the history screen for ePolicy Delivery show if the client has paid via credit card authorization or EFT?

The history will show 'Paid' status, but will not display the payment type.

If a client changes their draft date for recurring payments, does this change the effective date?

Yes, the new effective date is changed to the draft date and the policy is reissued

If a client changes their mode of premium payment, will the policy need to be reissued?

No, a change in mode does not require reissue

If the subsequent payment mode is changed, will the policy owner be allowed to make the change without additional monthly premiums being due?

No, additional payments will be required to bring the policy up to the mode selected

If a client goes to eService and only completes the initial premium, is the policy placed inforce?

No, in order for the policy to be placed inforce, a bank draft for recurring payment must be completed (monthly mode)
